Headline:
Brighter for a time but more rain later today.

Today:
A few showers at first, particularly across Cumbria and north Lancashire but most places becoming dry during the morning. Some sunshine for a time, then clouding over with further rain arriving by the early evening. Much lighter winds than yesterday. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
A wet evening but rain clearing away eastwards overnight with clear spells and showers following. Becoming windier again and feeling cold with a touch of frost in sheltered inland areas. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Friday:
Bright with sunshine and a few short-lived blustery showers, these briefly heavy with a little hail possible and perhaps wintry over the highest ground. Feeling cold in brisk north-westerly winds. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Cold at first on Saturday, but turning mild and cloudy with rain later. A few pockets of light rain/drizzle on Sunday. Brighter for some on Monday and remaining fairly mild.
